Dogs Defeated Seniors' Stealth—Not in Marcell's Moving
Pictures

Maryville developed a small Mexican situation last night, and a running street fight which lasted from early in the evening until early morning rivaled the occupation of Vera Cruz.

The high school seniors were out in numbers, and out for revenge without quarter. They began operations by entrenching themselves in the Washington school building. After few hours of watchful waiting they were rewarded by the arrival of the unsuspecting juniors. From windows, doors and dark corners the seniors swooped down upon their enemy and in a few moments of lively action had them securely tied with ropes. They then took the juniors to a quiet corner of the graveyard and laid them in a row, thinking a good night's work had been done. But someone took the trouble to count the captives and found that four juniors were missing.

Immediately scouting parties were sent to search the town, and at last a light was seen in the attic of the home of one of the juniors. The four missing ones were preparing their banners ignorant of the fate of their comrades and their own danger. The scouts began a still march on the house, but just then the snipers, every dog in the neighborhood, began a barking fire on the seniors. They kept up a continual roar of noise until 2 a. m., and kept the neighborhood up too.

The seniors were unable to withstand this attack and finally withdrew from their position. Then after a careful reconnoiter the four juniors stole out of the house and after several hours hard work planted their flags on the courthouse tower at 6 o'clock this morning. Two fifteen cent cigars padlocked the door, and the seniors, for the time being at least, went down to defeat.

CECELIA LOFTUS AT THE EMPIRE

One of the Most Thrilling Romances
of Motion Pictures Tonight.

Cecelia Loftus in a story, popular alike in book and stage form, will entertain the patrons of the Empire tonight in the motion pictures of "A Lady of Quality."

The story is told in seven reels and shown with a vividness of action and expression that is remarkable except when the genius of Miss Loftus is considered. This picture shows Miss Loftus in one of the most wonderful of her many successes and is the first time she ever appeared in motion films.

The story is brilliant, vivid, romantic and is reproduced with all the picturesque setting of the old English manor periods. Miss Loftus appears in a dual role, that of a young English baron and later as the Lady Clorinda, a character that blends daring and romance in thrilling combination.

There will be sleeping tents for the boys, with cots and mattresses, and a large lecture tent. Meals will be served. The only expense the boys will be under will be for transportation, and in many instances this is paid by the County Court or by private subscription.

Competitive examinations will be held in each county to determine who shall represent it. Each boy will be given five questions in arithmetic, geography, and agriculture and will be required to write an essay of 250 words on "Care of a Dairy Herd."

Keep Up The Chinch Bug Fight

By Leonard Haseman

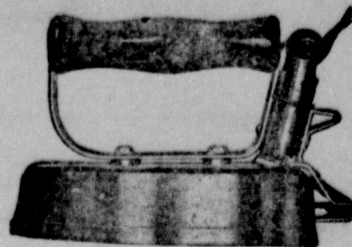

The farmers of Missouri, while busy fighting army worms and replanting where they have ruined crops should not lose sight of the fact that this is ideal chinch bug weather and where old bugs were abundant in the wheat fields during May there is danger that their young will move into other crops when the wheat is ripe and cut. The past month has been a busy one for most Missouri farmers and the month of June threatens to be one equally as strenuous especially where the chinch bug requires attention.

Comparatively few inquiries are being received by the Missouri College of Agriculture just now, but with the rush of other work, farmers are liable to overlook this pest. It is too late to fight the chinch bug after it has left the wheat fields and gone to other crops. Every farmer should examine his wheat and if the young, red and black bugs are abundant he should plan to fight the pest when it starts to migrate between now and the last of the month.

Most farmers are familiar with the dust and chemical barriers. One or more parallel ditches in which a log is dragged or a plowed strip thoroughly worked will keep the bugs back when it is dry. In rainy weather dust barriers are impossible so a supply of tar, road oil, creosote or crude carbolic acid should be on hand. Either of these chemicals when used to form a line will help to keep the bugs back and protect crops.

Dogs Defeated Seniors' Stealth—Not

Maryville developed a small Mexican situation last night, and a running street fight which lasted from early in the evening until early morning rivaled the occupation of Vera Cruz.

The high school seniors were out in numbers, and out for revenge without quarter. They began operations by entrenching themselves in the Washington school building. After few hours of watchful waiting they were rewarded by the arrival of the unsuspecting juniors. From windows, doors and dark corners the seniors swooped down upon their enemy and in a few moments of lively action had them securely tied with ropes. They then took the juniors to a quiet corner of the grave yard and laid them in a row, thinking a good night's work had been done. But someone took the trouble to count the captives and found that four juniors were missing.

Immediately scouting parties were sent to search the town, and at last a light was seen in the attic of the home of one of the juniors. The four missing ones were preparing their banners ignorant of the fate of their comrades and their own danger. The scouts began a still march on the house, but just then the snipers, every dog in the neighborhood, began a barking fire on the seniors. They kept up a continual roar of noise until 2 a. m., and kept the neighborhood up too.

The seniors were unable to withstand this attack and finally withdrew from their position. Then after a careful reconnoiter the four juniors stole out of the house and after several hours hard work planted their flags on the courthouse tower at 6 o'clock this morning. Two fifteen cent cigars padlocked the door, and the seniors, for the time being at least, went down to defeat.

CECELIA LOFTUS AT THE EMPIRE

One of the Most Thrilling Romances
of Motion Pictures Tonight.

Cecelia Loftus in a story, popular alike in book and stage form, will entertain the patrons of the Empire tonight in the motion pictures of "A Lady of Quality."

The story is told in seven reels and shown with a vividness of action and expression that is remarkable except when the genius of Miss Loftus is considered. This picture shows Miss Loftus in one of the most wonderful of her many successes and is the first time she ever appeared in motion films.

The story is brilliant, vivid, romantic and is reproduced with all the picturesque setting of the old English manor periods. Miss Loftus appears in a dual role, that of a young English baron and later as the Lady Clorinda, a character that blends daring and romance in thrilling combination.

IS OF NATIONAL FAME

"Most Brilliant Chinaman in America"
Editor, Author, Lecturer, Humorist.

The Nodaway County Chautauqua Association has added to its talent another lecturer of national fame, Ng Poon Chew, the noted Chinese editor and author.

Ng Poon Chew, of Oakland, Calif., was born in Sun Ning, Canton Province China, and though designed by his parents for the Taoist priesthood, was converted to Christianity and educated in the public schools of San Jose, Occidental school of San Francisco, and the San Francisco Theological seminary of the Presbyterian church.

He entered the ministry but resigned from this to publish the first Chinese illustrated weekly. He also established the first Chinese daily paper in America, of which he is managing editor as well as president of the publishing company. He is a director of the Mascot Cooper company, a Chinese league of justice. In 1906, he became the advisor to the Chinese consulate general. He is an author and lecturer.

As a humorist Ng Poon Chew has made a name for himself as the Oriental Mark Twain. He is a master of perfect English; he is a combination of oriental courtesy and American enterprise, and he has won the reputation of being the "most brilliant Chinaman in America." In the lecture field his brilliance, wit, light sarcasm and excellent command of the English language have won deep appreciation among the most cultured audiences.

HEAVY AND LIGHT SHOWERS FALL
OVER COUNTY TODAY.

HEAVIEST AT B. JCT.

Weather Report Says Generally Fair—
A Wet Week in Parts of the Surrounding States.

Rains, from the good, heavy kind to light showers, fell throughout the county today.

The heaviest rain is reported from Burlington Junction. It began there just at noon and lasted until 1 o'clock, a steady rain for an hour. A report from Clearmont says that a good rain fell there early this morning.

A light rain fell at Pickering this afternoon and shortly after 2 o'clock intermittent showers began falling in Maryville.

While today's rains are light and the weather report says generally fair tonight and Friday, these showers may mean that the heavier rains that have been falling in Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas, and which began a day or two ago in Indiana, may reach us in a few days.

Four Districts in White Cloud
Township Turn Down the Consolidation of Their Districts.

At the special election held yesterday at the Green school house of the Green, Hazel Grove, Mount Joy and Swinford districts consolidation was voted on. The vote was 21 for and 30 against. It was thought that the consolidation would carry as the school enumeration in the four districts is but 45 pupils and because of the small number as well as the general benefit that would come from the consolidation. John Jackson was the chairman of the meeting and Charles Farnan, secretary.

FOR BOYS' FAIR SCHOOL.

Counties to Examine Lads Represent Them at Sedalia.

George W. Reavis, of the State Department of Education and manager of the Boys' State Fair School has perfected arrangements for the second annual session of the school on the State Fair grounds at Sedalia, September 26 to October 2.

The attendance the first year was gratifying, according to Reavis, who says that indications are that each county will have a representative at the school this year.

There will be sleeping tents for the boys, with cots and mattresses, and a large lecture tent. Meals will be served. The only expense the boys will be under will be for transportation, and in many instances this is paid by the County Court or by private subscription.

Competitive examinations will be held in each county to determine who shall represent it. Each boy will be given five questions in arithmetic, geography, and agriculture and will be required to write an essay of 250 words on "Care of a Dairy Herd."

At the school last year sixty-one counties were represented.

Keep Up The Chinch Bug Fight
By Leonard Haseman

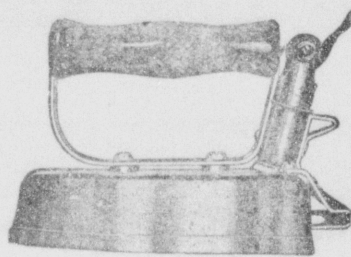

The farmers of Missouri, while busy fighting army worms and replanting where they have ruined crops should not lose sight of the fact that this is ideal chinch bug weather and where old bugs were abundant in the wheat fields during May there is danger that their young will move into other crops when the wheat is ripe and cut. The past month has been a busy one for most Missouri farmers and the month of June threatens to be one equally as strenuous especially where the chinch bug requires attention.

Comparatively few inquiries are being received by the Missouri College of Agriculture just now, but with the rush of other work, farmers are liable to overlook this pest. It is too late to fight the chinch bug after it has left the wheat fields and gone to other crops. Every farmer should examine his wheat and if the young, red and black bugs are abundant he should plan to fight the pest when it starts to migrate between now and the last of the month.

Most farmers are familiar with the dust and chemical barriers. One or more parallel ditches in which a log is dragged or a plowed strip thoroughly worked will keep the bugs back when it is dry. In rainy weather dust barriers are impossible so a supply of tar, road oil, creosote or crude carbolic acid should be on hand. Either of these chemicals when used to form a line will help to keep the bugs back and protect crops.

WEST SIDE HARDWARE

Last year the chinch bug seemingly reached its climax as regards abundance and injury and it is not likely to do nearly so much injury this year though we must be ready for it should it threaten cultivated crops this month. It is hoped that the weather will favor the spread of the chinch bug disease so that it, with man's help, may completely stamp out the pest this summer.

BARNARD P. O. TROUBLE ENDS.

Miss Fannie Merrel Reappointed—Public Letter of Mrs. Thompson, One of the Applicants.

Miss Fannie Merrel has been reappointed postmistress of the Barnard office. This position is under the civil service rules, and the contest for the appointment this time was spirited. Several applicants took the examination, and much feeling was aroused over the matter. While the applicants were waiting for the appointment to be made, Mrs. Nettie Thompson, one of them, made a public statement in the Barnard Bulletin, replying to criticisms against her. The letter, just as she wrote it to the Bulletin, is given below:

For the benefit of my friends alone I desire to make a statement to this paper. It has been narrated by the one small Perkins that I did not make a passing grade, because I did not make my grade public. He has stated that I made 61, which is as bare a lie as ever was uttered. I have stated to no one what my grade was. But I will say this much that nothing exists on my paper as low as 61 and one as 95. I have said that I would not make public my grade, but for the benefit of my friends and a few hypocrites I will say that none will be cut from my grade on character. I can pass on my grade made and on file at Washington and also on reputation although I am a working woman and haven't much time to loose arranging my toilet, I will say the worst of me is on the outside. Not concealed nor hid away with fine clothes, I have been in your midst all my life. I came here when 5 years old. Most of my life has been spent here. I have cooked many meals late at night; as late as 2 o'clock for the accommodation of the public, when anyone else in town would have turned them a way on a piece on a cold night, while I made hot coffee, soup and fixed a hot meal for accommodation never charging any more then, than any other time. I never turned farmers away at 3 or 4 p. m. and said "You're too late for dinner," but cooked for the hungry, and in the same way I shall serve the public should I be appointed P. M. of Barnard any time I could do you a favor by handing you out your mail I would do so as I would live and be in same buildings as P. O. the public all looks alike to me in a business way. Every one would receive the same courtesy I would expect to put in new fixtures so that I could give each and every one a new box. So asking the public to not believe all statements as to grades. I remain one with a good light plant, a good grade a good reputation and physically able and one with more time than any one else and last but not least one who needs it.

Mrs. Nettie Thompson

FIGHTING IS OVER IN MEXICO

Carranza Ready to Parley With Carbajal Party.

NEW PRESIDENT TO RETIRE.

Unconditional Surrender Only Condition on Which Negotiations Will Be Successful—Huerta's Successor Wants Amnesty Proclaimed.

Monterey, Mexico, July 17.—If plans announced here by Venustiano Carranza go into effect, fighting by Constitutionalists is over in Mexico. General Carranza declared his main object now would be to conduct negotiations for the Constitutionalists to enter Mexico City and establish their government without further bloodshed or damage to property.

General Carranza was unable to say whether these negotiations would be conducted through the A. B. C. mediators or direct with the federalists. Unconditional surrender, however, will be the only condition on which these negotiations will be successful.

"The resignation of Huerta and the substitution of Carbajal in itself will not cause the Constitutionalists to compromise on a single point the principles upon which the movement was founded," he said. "If the government machinery through which those ends may be obtained is not surrendered voluntarily by the party of Huerta it will be obtained by force."

HUERTA REACHES COAST

Dictator and Family Will Board Foreign Warship.

Puerto Mexico, July 17.—General Huerta and Blument arrived here on a special train from Mexico City.

Sonora Huerta with her two sons, Jorge and Victor, and their wives, and her unmarried daughters, were already at Puerto Mexico.

The orders of the Dresden and Bristol, German and English warships, still place them at the disposition of the executive.

Lower California Is Insurgent.

Douglas Ariz., July 17.—General Alvarado telegraphed to Constitutional Agent Lelievre here that the southern district of Lower California had been proclaimed Constitutional territory by Ameguez, the jefe politico. La Paz is the capital of the district. The federal garrison at Guaymas already had sent much artillery and spare ammunition to La Paz, believing it would be safe there when Guaymas was evacuated.

Carbajal to Retire.

Washington, July 17.—Francisco Carbajal, successor to General Huerta as provisional president of Mexico, advised the United States government informally that he intended to retire in favor of General Carranza. Mr. Carbajal wishes only that a general amnesty be proclaimed and protection given to the property of those who opposed the Constitutionalists.

MRS. WILLETT'S ARRESTED

Woman Believed Lost on Empress Is Found in Ontario, Cal.

Ontario, Cal., July 17.—Mrs. Hattie Willett, who was believed to have been lost in the Empress of Ireland disaster in the St. Lawrence river, leaving a husband and four children in Toronto, was arrested here in company with E. A. Hansen and H. H. Horn, also of Toronto.

The two men were held on the charge of helping Mrs. Willett here from Canada and will be detained by the police until it is known whether a charge of violating the Mann white slave traffic act will be placed against them by the federal authorities.

The information of the police is that Horn furnished the money and Hansen sent it to Mrs. Willett here. Two of her children are reported to be in Toronto.

Rebels Take Suburbs of San Domingo.

Washington, July 17.—The capture of San Cristobal and Vena, suburbs of Santo Domingo City, by the Dominican revolutionists was reported by Commander Carter of the cruiser Tennessee. The dispatch said foreign residents of the Dominican capital feared an attack on the city.

United States Gunboat Wrecked.

Washington, July 17.—The United States gunboat Princeton limped into the harbor of Tutuila, Samoa islands, in bad condition, according to a relayed radiogram received at the navy department. No lives were lost. The vessel struck a rock not on the chart on passage between Tutuila and the Manua islands.

Witnesses Take Flight.

Chicago, July 17.—The federal inquiry into the Lorimer-Munday bank crash was not resumed because several important witnesses, for whom subpoenas had been issued, suddenly left the city. According to federal agents, the men are believed to have fled to avoid testifying before the grand jury.

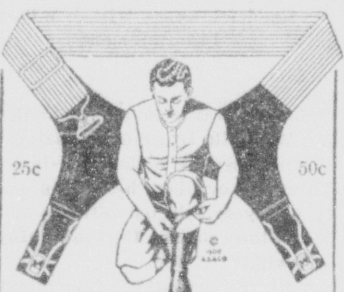

Northwest Potato Crop Up to Average.

Lincoln, July 17.—Reports from Sheridan, Pox Butte and Brown counties indicate that the potato crop in the northwestern part of the state will be up to the usual standard.

LOST IN CORN FIELD 20 HOURS.

Oklahoma Man in Chase After Wolf, Exhausted in Effort to Find His Way Out.

The Kansas City Journal tells the following story of a man who got lost in corn that stands eighteen feet high: Lost in a 500-acre corn field for twenty hours, with the temperature standing at the 100 notch and no breeze blowing, was the experience of Mike Lingo, a Tulsa county farmer, who is ill at his home near Broken Arrow as the result of his experience. Lingo was cutting alfalfa in a field adjoining the corn when he saw a black timber wolf, which had made its way from the woods a few rods distant, enter the corn. Black wolves are exceedingly rare in this county now, and Lingo was anxious to kill the animal and preserve it as a curiosity. He went to his house, got his shotgun and plunged into the corn in pursuit of the wolf.

Lingo tramped through the forest of corn until sundown without finding any trace of the animal. When he decided to return home he found he was lost. For hours he wandered up and down the immense field in a vain endeavor to get his bearings. He shouted for help without avail. Eventually exhausted and almost overcome by heat, he gave up the idea of finding his way out of the field in the dark, and decided to make a night of it there.

Meanwhile, his wife, becoming alarmed over his absence, organized a searching party of neighbors who put in the night hunting for the missing man. Late the next morning the searchers heard cries of distress emanating from the field, which held Lingo prisoner, and following the direction from whence the voice came they finally found the man, who, by this time was ill from exhaustion.

Lingo told his rescuers he was glad Tulsa county has corn fields of such promise as to cause a man to lose his way, but that he would not undergo his experience again for all the corn the field will produce.

Drive Fence Troubles
Off the FarmNo Fence
Outlasts the Post

And the day of the wood post is past.

Steel Fence posts are frost proof and weather proof. They won't break or bend out of shape. Vermin can't damage them. Weeds and rubbish can be burned along fence. They are elastic, indestructible and last a lifetime. They stop all post expense.

Apex Steel Fence Posts are the best fence post bargains, because they are made of high carbon angle steel, the toughest and most elastic metal for the purpose.

Cost no more than cedar posts, if you count cost of setting and tamping wood posts, and last four times as long.

The only post for replacing wood posts in a line of woven fence, because they can be driven right down beside the fence and save the ugly job of digging holes in such places.

The best, because made by practical fence men who know the business, and made right.

Let us show you the post and talk it over.

BRYAN COMES OUT FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Secretary Makes Formal Statement of His Attitude.

Washington, July 17.—In a formal statement Secretary Bryan came out for woman suffrage. He declared that he would ask no political right for himself that he was not willing to grant his wife and announced his intention of supporting the proposed state constitutional amendment extending the franchise to women to be voted upon in Nebraska in November.

Woman, Mr. Bryan said, had proved herself equal to every responsibility imposed upon her and would not fall society in this emergency. Above all other arguments in favor of giving her the ballot he placed the right of the mother to a voice in the moulding of the environment of her children. "The mother," the secretary said, "can justly claim the right to employ every weapon which can be made effective for the protection of those whose interests she guards and the ballot will put within her reach all of the instrumentalities of the government, including the police power."

Admiral Conceives Idea While Watching Dancers.

New York, July 17.—Admiral Dewey wants to learn to tango. He made this announcement while watching Miss Emily Semple and her partner dancing at a hotel at Manhattan beach. When the admiral's blue four-starred flag was run up over the hotel two weeks ago he walked and used a cane.

"I guess I'll have to learn to tango myself. I'm not too old, am I, Johnny?"

"Sure not," replied Johnny, who has been an elevator boy for fifteen years. "Most of 'em on the floor looks twice your age."

How Women Were Made.

According to a Hindu legend, this is the proper origin of the woman, says Tit-Bits:

Twashtri, the god Vulcan of the Hindu mythology, created the world. But on his commencing to create woman he discovered that with man he had exhausted all his creative materials, and that no one solid element had been left. This, of course, greatly perplexed Twashtri, and caused him to fall into a profound meditation. When he arose from it he proceeded as follows: He took the roundness of the moon, the undulating curves of the serpent, the graceful twist of the creeping plant, the light shivering of the grass blade and the slenderness of the willow, the velvety softness of the flowers, the lightness of the feather, the gentle gaze of the doe, the frolicsomeness of the dancing sunbeam, the tears of the cloud, the inconstancy of the wind, the timidity of the hare, the vanity of the peacock, the hardness of the diamond, the sweetness of honey, the cruelty of the tiger, the heat of the fire, the chill of the snow, the cackling of the parent and the cooing of the turtle dove. All these he mixed together and formed woman. Then he presented her to the man.
